THE CLINICIAN. From the Meeker Sheep Dog web site “Elvin and his wife Jan have lived at That’ll Do Ranch in Westeros Alberta, Canada since 1981, and raise purebred Red Angus, Border Collies and Quarter Horses. In summer they run a summer grazing program for 1500 head of yearlings.

Dogs are used extensively in the cattle operation e.g. during A.I. season, round-up, treating, and general management whether in corrals, chutes or open pasture.

Cutting Horses are a passion of Elvin’s and he uses the dogs as turn-back in the training and practice pen.

In the past Elvin has competed extensively in sheepdog trials and cattle competitions. It has always been his goal to have good practical working ranch dogs that can be competitive.

For the last 18 years Elvin has taught Stock dog training throughout North America, as well as being invited to judge numerous sheep dog events.” Some past events include the Bluegrass trial in Kentucky and the Meeker classic this year in Colorado. He also produced a very popular three part training video series on stockdogs. Elvin recently won the cattle class at the Calgary Stampede and has been a top competitor in sheep and cattle events all over North America.

THE CLINIC. The clinic will be held at Lavelle Farms, in Southeastern Ohio on Wednesday-Friday October 17-19, 2007. Beginning Wednesday evening October 17, 2007 at 6:00 p.m., the clinic will last until approximately 9:00 p.m. the first evening. Then participants will work from 8:00 a.m. to 5:00 p.m. on Thursday and Friday. For directions to the farm, please see the map on www.lavellefarms.com The cost is $250.00 per dog, for both days due no later than August 15, 2007. First come, first served. There are only a limited number of dogs being accepted to allow for more individual attention. Auditors can observe without a dog for $20.00 daily. Beginners are welcome as well as the seasoned handler. Dog broke cattle and sheep will be available for the clinic. Arenas, round corrals and pastures will be used depending on the weather, experience of the dog and handler. Trailer loading, trial techniques and general farm and ranch work with dogs will be covered. The new 120' x 200' indoor arena is available, so the clinic will go forward rain or shine. Save $25.00 by enrolling before August 15, 2007. After that date, the cost goes up to $275.00.
